TIPTON FAMILIES IN WEST

Tiptons Have Served in Every War in Which Nation Has Engaged.

(By Selvid Nelson.)

The genealogy of the descendants of Col. John Tipton has brought new data to the writer which will be used in making corrections and bringing in the additional facts obtained.

In mention of Isaac P. Tipton, the writer made the mistake of placing the wrong Isaac in the line of Samuel Tipton's descendants. Isaac P. Tipton, who married Anna Powell, was known by the name of "Bud" Isaac Tipton, to distinguish him from Isaac Tipton, the son of Samuel, who was known as "Black Ben." Isaac P. Tipton was a son of Isaac Tipton, the fifth son of Col. John Tipton. He married a Miss Patterson and that is where I. P. Tipton gets his middle name.

Isaac Tipton, the daughter of Isaac P. and Anna Powell Tipton, married Dr. A. C. Emmert and lives in Elizabethton, Tenn.

Josephine, another daughter of I. P. and Anna Powell Tipton, married Mr. Elveng and resides in Knoxville county, Va.

Under Ruth Tipton and William John's descendants the writer omitted Walter Hunter, the eldest son of Dr. B. E. and May Belle Hunter. Walter Hunter married Miss Leon Smith and resides at Elizabethton, being the responsible position of cashier of the Elizabethton bank.

The name of the wife of John Tipton II, of Sullivan county, was Margaret Rogers. A correct list of a branch of his descendants shows:

Henry C. Tipton, son of William Nicholas Tipton, married Helen Margaret, of Jefferson county, who was the widow, and resides near Jefferson City. They have six children, five daughters and one son. Harry J. Tipton, the oldest daughter, married James R. Malcom and widow. Her home is in College Alpha, Texas. Henrietta B., the second daughter, early in life had a decided talent for the profession and practice of medicine, but later decided in favor of becoming a trained nurse. She is now associated with a prominent infirmary of Louisville, Ky., where she now resides, and she has attained high distinction in her profession.

The third, William H. Tipton, married Nell Roberts, of Talbot's, Tenn. He graduated with high honors at Carson and Newman college and was elected scholastic to be his life work was certainly in the missionary Baptist church, after which he took a course in the Theological seminary at Louisville.

About three years ago he was sent by the foreign mission of that seminary to China. Reports show that he has made rapid progress in acquiring the language and mastering it sufficiently to have been preaching more than two years in the Chinese tongue. He is mentioned authoritatively as one of the most valuable men in the great work. In September of last year his wife, whose affectionate name is "Lillian," was killed, was called to the higher life. On April 1 last, Mr. Tipton sailed from Shanghai, China, for his home at Jefferson City. His three children were with him. After three months he will return to China where he has his life work will end.

Bliss, the third daughter, married James Hammond and they reside near Tipton, Tenn.

Margaret, the fourth daughter, married George Munn, of Knoxville. She is now in the service of the Southern Railway at Jefferson City. Kathleen, the youngest child, is still at home and a student at Carson and Newman college.

A peculiar trait of character belonging to this entire family is settishness in the love of the girls. Their taste in the love and admiration for fine horses. Several of these ladies will saddle, ride, harness or drive a horse the writer would be afraid to approach.

The above information was received in response to the request for letters of correction as to the statements concerning the Tipton family.

Another interesting communication received relates to the record of Capt. Samuel Patterson Tipton's son. It gives him information:

Remember, the question is: WHO PAYS FOR THE ADVERTISING? This refers only to advertising in THE SENTINEL. To give an example of meritorious advertising and its results, let us take two merchants, one an advertiser and the other non-advertiser.

THE NON-ADVERTISER, let us suppose, spends $75 each month in rent, $200 each month for salaries, and $75.00 a month for light, heat, and incidentals, amounting to $4,200 as his total expense for one year. From this total expense, he has been able to sell enough goods to make him a gross profit of $7,000, from which he deducts his expense $4,200, leaving him $2,800 for his remuneration and interest on his investment.

THE ADVERTISER sells the same goods at lower prices. His rent is the same as the non-advertiser, his salaries the same, his incidental expense is the same, but he adds on to this $50 a month for advertising, which brings his total expense to $4,800. He finds, however, that the $50 each month for adver-
