SUMMER 2023

President Comments

Hello family, hopefully everyone is happy and healthy and is getting excited about the 2023 TFAA reunion/conference in Woodstock Va.

We will learn about the Lands, Labors, and Lives of the Tiptons in Northern Virginia. Did I mention that the current landowner of a parcel of Tipton land is allowing us to visit and stand on lands owned by our ancestors?

Other agenda Items are:

Information on our England Tiptons

Other famous Tiptons

How to analyze you evidence

Y-DNA Project Update

Tipton family southern migration

And more!

If you would like more information and or are planning on attending please let us know at TFAA2019@comcast.net

Family, as you all may know, we Tiptons are related to many families in Cades Cove, TN including the Sparks families. I was invited by our Cousin Larry Sparks to attend their 99th family reunion. So, I did and to my amazement there were almost 300 family members there, the oldest being 94 and the youngest being just months old. They traveled from as far away as Tempe, AZ (1,820 miles). With that being said, we “Tiptons” have as many or more relatives scattered all over the United States, so we need to step up our game and figure out how we can increase TFAA's annual reunion/conference attendance. Suggestions have been made to change the date to allow working people to attend and to meet in the same location each year. This will be a project we will be working on and we'll be seeking your ideas in the 2024 year.

We are still looking for someone to serve on the TFAA board as treasurer. If you would like to do so, please let me know. Contrary to popular belief, it does not take a lot of time to do the job.

There are many of us who have run into brick walls while researching our family! I know there is a ton of information out there that someone may have in the basement, family Bible, etc., that is assumed to be public or family knowledge. I am here to testify that there are documents out there. Please share if you have photos or letters or documents that you did NOT find on the internet with us so that we can share it with other family members who may need it to break down that wall. Thank you.

Kathy Hoffmann, TFAA President

NOTES FROM OUR RESEARCH DIRECTOR

CHARLOTTE'S TIPTON GENIE TIP You Can't Get Everything On-Line

For those of us who cannot travel to the locations where our distant ancestors lived, on-line records are beneficial to us. However, we can't always find those illusive documents on-line that we desperately need to prove a connection to that significant ancestor. Often, we find that we must travel to the site where the ancestor lived and search the local records. The local genealogical society in the county in which the ancestor lived may be able to find that essential document and email or mail it to you.

On-line genealogical sites such as Ancestry, My Heritage, Family Search, Fold 3, and others add new records to their databases every day. However, these sites do not offer all the records that one can find in court houses, libraries, and other repositories in the counties where the ancestors lived.

Some of the on-line records, which are very valuable to us, are the census records from 1850 to 1950, birth, death, and marriage records, newspaper articles, photos of the tombstones or markers, church records, wills, probate and land records, and military records. These are all good sources to help us prove our ancestors.

If you plan to use information from these on-line sites for membership in a lineal society such as DAR, SAR, Daughters of 1812, Sons or Daughters of the Confederacy, Colonial Dames, the Mayflower Society, the Jamestown Society, First Families, etc., you should print out the image of the document and include the source of the document. If you find the document in a local facility, you should make a copy of the original document and record the source from which it came.

Obituaries

Marie E. Tipton

December 9, 1945 – August 5, 2023

Marie Tipton was a caring mother, grandmother, sister, and friend. She left this world peacefully on August 5, 2023, at age 77. Marie is reunited in heaven with her daughter, Angela Huffstetler Soard. She is also reunited with her husband, Gary Rose; parents, Claude and Bertha Tipton, as well as her brothers, G.W. and Denny Tipton. She will be fondly remembered by her daughter, Regina Huffstetler Dudley; siblings, Bonnie and Dillard "Beverly" Tipton; grandchildren, Heather (Ricky) Davidson, Amanda (Brandon) Cardwell, Reagan Dudley, Liberty Dudley, and Grayson Dudley. She also leaves behind great-grandchildren: Brayden Davidson, Korbin Davidson, Hadlee Davidson, Cooper Cardwell, and Lexi Cardwell. Marie is survived by an extended line of cousins, nieces, and nephews whom she loved dearly.

Marie was an avid traveler, fashion aficionado, and car enthusiast. She possessed a deep love for nature and music, which she shared with those surrounding her. She maintained a lifelong desire to learn - always discovering a new subject to read about and share with her family. She most avidly explored her faith and her ancestry. Marie was a 1998 graduate of Rhema Bible School, and her studies continued for the remainder of her life. She also worked extensively on researching her family history; especially as it related to Cades Cove in the Great Smoky Mountains. It was hard to know her without catching a glimpse of the thousands of pages involved in her research.

Above all else, Marie cared about making others feel loved; as if it was her purpose in this life. For her, there was no greater joy than knowing that her family and friends felt happy and cared about. She found peace long before leaving this earth, because she was able to love and be loved more than anyone could expect in a lifetime.

The family will honor Marie with services at Sherwood Chapel & Memorial Gardens, 3176 Airport Highway, Alcoa, TN 37701 on Wednesday, August 9, 2023, with a receiving of friends from 2:00pm to 4:00pm and a memorial service to follow at 4:00pm with Pastor Robert May to officiate, entombment service will be private. Pallbearers will be Greg Tipton, Michael Tipton, David Tipton, Jason Tipton, Marty Cable, Brandon Huffman. Online condolences and fond memories may be shared with the family at www.sherwoodchapel.com.

Tiptons in Ohio

TFAA member Deb McCue-Jolly has submitted pdfs of two books that included information on Tiptons in Ohio. These are Commemorative Biographical Record of the Counties of Harrison and Carroll, Ohio (Chicago: J. H. Beears & Co., 1891) and Historical Collections of Harrison County, in the State of Ohio by Charles A. Hannah (New York: privately printed, 1900). The first can be accessed by using this link:

Ohio. After his marriage Mr. Moore remained on the farm for some years, and in 1851 removed into the city of Cadiz, where he opened a boot and shoe store, which he carried on up to the time of his wife's death, when he sold the business, but in the following December reopened, doing now an excellent trade in the same line. Mr. Moore has made a success of life, and is highly honored for his upright principles. He is an elder in the Presbyterian Church; in politics a Republican.

C. R. TIPTON, one of the well-known citizens of Cadiz, was born in Green Township, Harrison Co., Ohio, August 19, 1846, and is a son of John M. and Jane Tipton, born in Harrison County, Ohio. His paternal grandfather, Edmund Tipton, was a captain under Commodore Perry, the hero of Lake Erie, and was one of the founders of the first Methodist Episcopal Church in his section. About 1813 or 1814 he came to Harrison County, Ohio, and bought a half section of land in Green Township, and from him the Tiptons, of Harrison County, are descended.

On November 12, 1867, Mr. Tipton married Miss Mary Swan, eldest daughter of Thomas and Nancy Swan, of Cadiz, and to this union have been born six children, three of whom are living and three deceased. The living are Bertha, John and Frank, at home. The deceased are Claude, the eldest, who died in August, 1886, at the age of seventeen; Carrie, who died aged about three years; the third died in infancy.

In April, 1864, Mr. Tipton enlisted in the One Hundred and Seventieth Ohio National Guards and took part in the battle of Snicker's Gap, and stood beside Harvey Haverfield, when that young comrade was shot in the temple by a minie-ball and killed. On one occasion he heroically rescued Maj. Jenkins from drowning, that officer having sunk twice while in the Shenandoah River, which the troops were crossing after a repulse. Mr. Tipton is a member of McCready Post, G. A. R., and makes his home in Cadiz, where he enjoys the respect of a large circle of acquaintances.

C. R. Tipton, from boyhood, has been a lover of horses, and early began breaking, buying and selling, and soon turned his attention to training trotters. He was the first to import into Harrison County fine stock from Kentucky, and has developed some very fast animals, including Belle Brasfield (2:20), Kate Campbell (2:25), Harry Robertson (2:20), Captain Donds (2:20½), Hi Wilkes (2:20), Charlie Tipton (2:27½), and many others. Mr. Tipton is still in the business, and is now also engaged with Clark's Horse Review, traveling all the time in its interest, his extensive acquaintance with breeders and trainers enabling him to do good and extensive work, which is enhanced by his familiarity with the pedigree of all the better families of blooded stock throughout the United States.

JAMES THOMPSON. This well-known citizen of Cadiz, Harrison County, well represents the first quarter of the nineteenth century in his section. He was born in Cadiz Township, Harrison Co., Ohio, March 3, 1818. His father, David Thompson, was a native of County Tyrone, Ireland, whence, when a lad of nineteen, he came to America in 1792, settling near Chambersburg, Penn., where he became a farmer. In his native land he had learned the trade of a weaver, but this he entirely discarded for the more pleasant pursuits of agriculture. He soon met, loved and married Miss Martha Gift, a native of Pennsylvania, of German parentage, and some time after his marriage he was chosen keeper of the Franklin County Infirmary, which position he held some five years. In the meantime his aged father, Joseph Thompson, who had come with him to America, died in Pennsylvania, and David and his wife removed, in 1814, to what is now Harrison County, Ohio, where he purchased, at six dollars per acre, 260 acres of land situated about one mile north of the town of Cadiz. The place

Willett has always supported the Democratic ticket, and takes quite an interest in party politics. He is a self-made man, having achieved his present financial standing through his own efforts. Liberal in his views, generous in his nature, he has won the confidence of all.

WILLIAM D. COPELAND, a wealthy farmer, was born January 8, 1836, in Franklin Township, Harrison Co., Ohio, where he still resides. The Copeland family, of whom there is any record in this country, came from Ireland and located in Pennsylvania, where they resided many years. John Copeland, the first of this American family to come to Ohio, settled in Jefferson County about 1800, and there he died. His wife was Isabelle Leach, of Pennsylvania, and their children were Samuel, Thomas, Joseph, James, David, William and Archie. William Copeland came to Harrison County at the age of twenty-six years, and here, in 1833, married Mary Dempster, a daughter of Robert Dempster, of Pennsylvania, who first settled in Jefferson County, where he was married to Elizabeth Hunter, a daughter of John Hunter. In 1820 Mr. Hunter came to Harrison County and purchased the farm now owned by Mrs. Mary Copeland. This was cleared by himself, and the improvements were made by him also. In politics Mr. Dempster was a Whig, and took a prominent part in the party work. He was a good friend of education, and subscribed liberally that a school might be started in his vicinity. For many years the meetings of the Presbyterian society were held at his house, and when the first church was built he was among the most liberal contributors. He was an earnest progressive man, and exercised a beneficial influence in his section. Soon after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. William Copeland settled on the farm on which their son, William D., now resides. Their children were named John W., William D., Joseph, Albert, Elizabeth, Isabelle, Mary M. and Margaret J. In politics Mr. Copeland was a Democrat, and while not taking as active an interest as many, still he was always a supporter of the party. In 1870, after a life of exceptional purity and good deeds, he passed away and was buried at Feed Springs. On March 10, 1867, W. D. Copeland was married to Lucy Burns, daughter of John M. Burns, of Franklin Township, Harrison County. The Burns family came originally from Westmoreland County, Penn., and settled in Smithfield, Jefferson Co., Ohio. John M. Burns married Elizabeth, daughter of John Hilbert, and they settled in German Township, Harrison County, and reared the following family: Frank Samantha (Mrs. Alex Henderson), Letitia (Mrs. Joseph Courtright) and Lomida (Mrs. Henry Taylor). Mr. Burns was a teacher by profession, which he followed nearly his whole life. In politics he was a Democrat, and was elected justice of the peace for several terms; in religion he was a leading member of the United Presbyterian Church. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Copeland settled in Franklin Township, Harrison County, where Mr. Copeland engaged in farming and stock-raising. Their children are Flora B., W. Frank, Emmett D. and Perry H. Mr. Copeland is a Democrat in politics, and has always taken an active interest in the success of his party; has served with satisfaction as trustee of the township for two terms. He and his family are members of the Feed Springs Presbyterian Church, in which he is trustee.

AQUILA TIPTON, farmer, Nottingham Township, Harrison County, is a son of Aquila Tipton, who was a son of Aquila Tipton. It is not known where Aquila Tipton (first) was born, but the first known of him was at McLerie, Jefferson Co., Ohio, where he settled in a very early day, and thence moved to Stock Township, Harrison County, where he entered 160 acres of land near Deersville, now owned by Abel Smith and Marion McElroy. When he came to this property he had to cut his own road through the forest from Jefferson County, and here he spent his life in clearing the land. Politically he was a Whig. His son, Aquila, was born on this farm, June 1, 1800, and died on same May 30, 1876. Nancy Waller, wife of Aquila (second), was born December 26, 1802, a daughter of George Waller, a native of Maryland, where Nancy, also, was born. By this union there were thirteen children, as follows: Benjamin, born January 5, 1823; Mary J., born August 22, 1824, resides in Missouri; Sarah A., born August 24, 1826, is deceased; Ruth Hines, born January 15, 1829, resides in Uhrichsville, Ohio; Rachel Abrams, born August 10, 1830, lives in Oregon; Charlotte H., born August 4, 1832, is deceased; Jared, born September 4, 1834, is deceased; Ephraim, born May 4, 1836, is deceased; Aquila, born May 24, 1838, is the subject of this sketch; Martha, born in 1840, is deceased; Nancy, born August 31, 1841; George W., born September 7, 1844, is a resident of Archer Township, and Thomas B., born September 15, 1850, resides in Illinois. Mrs. Tipton departed this life May 4, 1871. Mr. and Mrs. Tipton were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years; politically he was a Republican.

Aquila Tipton, our subject, was born on the old farm first entered by his paternal grandfather, where he grew to manhood and was educated at the common schools. On April 28, 1861, he was married to Miss Maria Scott, who was born July 25, 1840, a daughter of Charles and Margaret (Dodd's) Scott, former of whom was born in Jefferson County, Ohio, and latter in Ireland. Our subject and wife are parents of seven children, viz.: Oliver B. and Margaret I. (twins), born January 16, 1863, residing at home; Scott P., born April 18, 1865; Annie E., born May 7, 1867, wife of Jamison Cope, of Nottingham Township; Horace S., born May 23, 1871; Woody C., born October 16, 1875, and Can. A., born March 19, 1883, all three living at home. After his marriage Mr. Tipton removed to Guernsey County, where he remained one year, and then returned to Deersville, where he was employed for some time at various kinds of labor. He then purchased a part of the old farm on which he remained till October, 1882, when he bought the farm he now owns, which contains seventy-one and one-fourth acres in Section 6, Nottingham Township. Politically he is Democratic, and has held several public offices in his township. Mrs. Tipton is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

PHILIP ROWLAND, a descendant of one of the earliest settlers of Harrison County, was born May 25, 1825, in Nottingham Township, Harrison Co., Ohio. The Rowland family had its origin in Maryland, where John, the grandfather of Philip, was born, and where many years of his life were spent. He was there married to Rachel Engle, and reared the following family: William, James, Mary, Levi, Betsy, John, Cyrus and Rebecca. Soon after his marriage he removed to what is now West Virginia, where he remained until 1801, when he started on a journey westward, and after much search for a suitable abiding place, selected a tract in Moorefield Township, Harrison Co., Ohio, and then returned for his family. Their journey hither was made in a covered wagon, and many were the hardships and dangers they passed through before they arrived at their destination, the wagon on one occasion being upset while crossing a river, and the family narrowly escaping from drowning. They, however, reached their future home, and moved into a log cabin, which had been erected for them. The forest was in its primeval condition, and filled with Indians and all sorts of wild animals. Mr. Rowland served as a private in the Revolutionary War, and after the close of that struggle he served his Government as Indian spy for three years, his territory extending along the Ohio and Muskingum rivers, his arms being the rifle, tomahawk and hunting knife. In company with a number of others he once was in pursuit of a band of Indian raiders, who had been committing depredations along the frontier, and had massacred a large number born March 8, 1855, deceased; Philip M., born September 3, 1858, deceased; Alice A., born February 27, 1862, deceased; Eli B., born September 22, 1864, resides in Monroe Township; Jacob, born February 11, 1867, died in infancy; Martin, born February 20, 1868, deceased; William G., born April 11, 1870, at home, and Mary M. born February 21, 1872, also at home. Mr. Eick has lived where he now resides since he came to Ohio, and has been identified as one of the leading men of his township. Politically, he is a Republican, and he and wife are members of the Lutheran Church.

ISAAK RUSSELL, a thrifty farmer of Monroe Township, Carroll County, was born July 10, 1828, on the farm he now owns. His father, Arthur Russell, was born in Ireland, in 1779. Arthur's father was Robert Russell, who, about 1780, migrated to the United States, and settled in Washington County, Penn., entering a large tract of land, on which he remained till his death. His children were Samuel, Arthur, Robert Bell, Elizabeth and Sarah. Arthur grew to manhood in Pennsylvania, and was educated at the common schools; in 1805, he, in company with his brother, Robert, came to Ohio, and entered Section 36, of what is now Monroe Township, Carroll County, where they both put up cabins, and spent their time in clearing the land, Arthur erecting one of the first saw-mills in Carroll County. In Pennsylvania, Arthur married Miss Belle Holmes, who was born in Ireland, and was brought to the United States when but two years old. To them were born children as follows: Jesse, Isaac, Maria and Belle, all deceased except Isaac. Mr. Russell, a few years after he built his cabin, also erected a hewed-log house, near where Isaac now resides, in which he lived till his death, in 1844, his wife having preceded him to the grave in 1834; both were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Isaac Russell, whose name opens this sketch, was reared to manhood on the farm, and educated at the district school. On September 6, 1849, he married Miss Eleanor Nixon, who was born in 1828, a daughter of James Nixon, of Union Township, Carroll County. This union has been blessed with the following named children: James M., who resides in Dell Roy, Ohio; Cordelia B., deceased; Samuel R., deceased; Isaac N., in Canton, Ohio, and Howard, at home. Mr. Russell has resided on the old farm all his life; he now owns 110 acres, on which he has erected a fine residence, and made many other improvements. In 1890 he was elected land appraiser of Monroe Township, he being, politically, a Republican. He and his wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and are highly esteemed by their neighbors.

SAMUEL TIPTON, a leading agriculturist of Monroe Township, Carroll County, was born in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, January 12, 1837. His father, John Tipton, was a native of Maryland, born in 1774, and there married Elizabeth Tipton. To them were born children as follows: John, Samuel, Eliza J., Mary A., Catherine, Elizabeth and Nancy. Mr. Tipton, who was a carpenter by trade, resided in Green Township, Harrison Co., Ohio, for some years, but died in Wisconsin in 1842. After his death his widow returned to Ohio, and died in Franklin Township, Harrison County, in February, 1887, aged ninety-three years.

Samuel Tipton, the subject proper of these lines, was educated at the district schools, and in 1865 married Esther Benner, who was born in 1849, in Monroe Township, Carroll Co., Ohio, a daughter of Jacob and Esther (Manghman) Benner. To this union were born seven children, viz.: Florence, Clyde, Samuel, Etta, Bertha, Udella and Bartlett, all of whom reside at home. Mr. Tipton came to Carroll County in 1862, and in 1865 he purchased the farm where he now resides, which contains 135 acres. Politically, he is Democratic. He and his wife are members of the Lutheran Church, and the family are among the most respected in the township where they reside.

ROBERT G. KEAN, member of the State Legislature for Carroll County, and a prosperous and influential farmer of Washington Township, is a native of the same, born April 25, 1844. John Kean, his grandfather, was born in Ireland, where he was married, and soon after that event he was pressed into the British Army, in which he served some two or three years. Succeeding in deserting, however, he came to America, and for some time taught school in Washington County, Penn. In 1814 his wife came to the United States and, rejoining her husband, they proceeded from Pennsylvania to Salem, in Jefferson County, Ohio, where they resided a short time. They then came to what is now Washington Township, Carroll County, where he leased a tract of land and commenced farming; he also taught school here, being the first teacher in the county. After several years' residence in Washington township he removed to near Bergholz, in Jefferson County, where he passed the remainder of his life; politically he was a Democrat. The children born to this pioneer couple were as follows: Mrs. Jane Kelly, Mrs. Rosanna Sweeney, John, Mrs. Mary A. Miller, Francis, Mrs. Isabella Fulton, Mrs. Matilda Wallace, Daniel and William. Of the children above enumerated, John was born in County Antrim, Ireland, and came with his parents to Ohio, where he was brought up on the farm and educated at the subscription schools. In 1827 he was married to Jane McMaster, a native of Washington County, Penn., born December 5, 1809, and daughter of James and Elizabeth (George) McMaster. To this union were born ten children, as follows: James, Mrs. Mary Donaldson and Mrs. Elizabeth J. McClellan, all three now deceased; Mrs. Christiana Stephenson, residing in Columbiana County, Ohio; Mrs. Matilda George, in Lee Township, Carroll County; Mrs. Hannah Crofts, a resident of Columbiana County, Ohio; Mrs. Isabella Carey, in East Liverpool, Ohio; John, in Washington Township; Robert G., our subject, and William, a Presbyterian minister in Lafayette, Ind. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. John Kean resided on a leased farm in Washington Township until 1832, when he purchased the property now owned by his son John, containing 169 acres, afterward buying the farm owned and occupied by our subject, also comprising 160 acres (these 329 acres being located in Section 2, Washington Township), where he died. In politics he was a Republican, and in religion a member of the United Presbyterian Church; his widow is now living with her son John.

Robert G. Kean, the subject proper of this memoir, grew to manhood on his father's farm, attending in the winter months the common schools of the district. In August, 1862, he enlisted in Company H, Ninety-eighth Regiment, O. V. I., and was promoted to sergeant. On March 30, 1869, he was married to Miss Sarah McBarney, who was born March 10, 1847, in Monroe Township, Carroll Co., Ohio, a daughter of Samuel and Sarah Jane (George) McBarney, and after their marriage they came to the farm already referred to, whereon they have since resided. They are consistent members of the Presbyterian Church; in politics Mr. Kean is a Republican, and in the fall of 1880 he was elected to represent the people of Carroll County, in the State Legislature; he has served as justice of the peace twenty years.

ENOCH C. ROSS, M. D., a worthy and respected member of the most beneficent of all professions, is a resident of Mulvern, Brown Township, Carroll County, of which he is a native, having been born in that village October 3, 1846.

His grandfather, Enock Ross, came in 1812 with his wife and family from Pennsylvania to Ohio, and took up his residence near Waynesburg, where he and his wife passed the remainder of their lives. Among the children marriage with Miss Eliza Ann, daughter of John W. and Susanna Slates, who were early settlers of Carroll County, and born of English ancestry. Soon after their marriage our subject and wife moved to Perry Township, same county, where he has a fine farm of 182½ acres, greatly improved by him during his twenty-nine years' residence thereon. He learned of his father the trade of carpenter, which he has always followed in connection with farming, being also a builder and contractor. To Mr. and Mrs. Shawver have been born three children, viz.: William, a farmer in Perry Township, and married to Clara D. Crio; John, at home with his parents, and Mary, married to John Lewis, also a farmer in Perry Township. Politically Mr. Shawver is a Democrat, and has held various positions of trust in his township; he and his wife are members of the Lutheran Church.

WILLIAM R. TIPTON was born in Perry Township, Carroll Co., Ohio, August 17, 1837, and has been a resident of the same ever since. His father, Miles Tipton, was born in Pennsylvania January 30, 1806, and when a boy came from that State to Ohio, settling in Harrison County, whence, after a residence there of about twenty-one years, he moved to Carroll County, where he bought the farm on which his son, William R., is now living. Miles Tipton married Susanna Ross, whose parents were old settlers of that county, and whose ancestors also came to Ohio from Pennsylvania, settling in Harrison County about the time of the War of 1812. Mr. Ross, father of Mrs. Miles Tipton, came from Ireland when he was but thirteen years old and held the position of pay-master in the War of 1812. Mrs. Ross was born in Pennsylvania, May 14, 1798, her parents having come from Germany at a very early period. Miles Tipton died in Carroll County, Ohio, May 3, 1870, at the age of sixty-seven years, three months, three days, his widow passing away in the same county, August 3, 1859, when aged ninety-three, having been unusually strong and active up to within a few days of her death. They were the parents of four children, viz.: Hannah E., born July 6, 1832; Albert O., born July 17, 1835; William R., our subject, and Cyrus G., born March 31, 1840. Of these Hannah E., Albert O. and William R. are all married and living on farms in Carroll County, and Cyrus G. makes his home in the present State of Washington.

William R. Tipton was brought up on his father's farm, securing his education at the district school. At the breaking out of the Civil War he went to the front, enlisting in February, 1864, in the Signal Corps, U.S.A., and took an active part in the Atlanta campaign. After Atlanta was taken, Mr. Tipton was transferred to the Army of the Cumberland, which marched through east Tennessee; was next sent to Nashville, then to New Orleans and afterward to Texas. Being mustered out April 25, 1866, Mr. Tipton returned home and has been farming ever since. On October 13, 1869, he was married to Miss Mary A. Chaddock, also a native of Carroll County, Ohio, born January 15, 1839, a daughter of Joseph and Mahala (Jenkins) Chaddock, the former of whom was born October 25, 1806, and latter October 25, 1813. They were married November 18, 1834, and both died in 1877, he in May, and she August 31. Mr. Chaddock came from Jefferson County, Ohio, to Carroll in 1837, and here passed the rest of his life. Mr. and Mrs. Tipton have had three children to bless their home, viz.: Miles Ross, born June 23, 1871; Laura, born October 10, 1873, and W. T. S., born May 12, 1875. Mr. Tipton has a farm of 255 acres of splendid land, all well watered. He is a hard-working man, having accomplished a great deal by his own energy and good management. Mrs. Tipton holds to the Presbyterian faith, while Mr. Tipton is a "liberalist;" politically he is a Republican. Socially, Mr. and Mrs. Tipton have a host of friends, and many there are who have enjoyed the hospitality of their home. They believe in doing good, helping when they can, and the latch string always hangs out to friends and strangers.

WILLIAM S. LEWIS, a progressive farmer and member of one of the oldest and most highly respected families of Carroll County, is a native of the same, born (when it was a portion of Tascara County) in Harrison Township, March 12, 1819. He is second in the order of birth of the six children of John and Mary (Stinger) Lewis, former of whom came in 1813 from Pennsylvania to Ohio, and entered a tract of land in what is now Harrison Township, Carroll County; soon thereafter he married Mary Stinger, a native of the Keystone State, and whose family had joined the pioneers in Carroll County. John Lewis in course of a short time added by purchase to the tract of land he had entered, and erected one of the first mills in that section, to which the pioneers would come from far and near to have their grain ground. In the year 1830 the family moved into Brown Township, where Mr. Lewis entered a tract of land on what afterward became known as "Lewis' Ridge," and here he erected a log cabin, and began clearing up a farm. John Lewis and his wife passed the remainder of their lives on this place, he dying July 13, 1832, and his widow September 1, 1856.

William S. Lewis was ten years of age when he came with his parents to Brown Township, where he attended the subscription schools a few weeks in the winter time. At the age of nineteen years he commenced life as a farm laborer, receiving eight dollars per month during harvest time, and four dollars per month throughout the remainder of the season. Mr. Lewis was united in marriage December 13, 1838, with Miss Mary A. Miller, who was born in Cumberland County, Penn., daughter of Jacob and Jane Miller, and who came to Ohio with her parents when she was twelve years of age. After marriage Mr. and Mrs. Lewis settled on their present farm, where, with the exception of three years, they have since resided. Six children have been born to them (five of whom are now living), viz.: Sarah J., born December 10, 1839; Ruth, born March 11, 1841, died December 4, 1843; Mary Anne, born April 11, 1843; Bartholomew, born October 28, 1845; William Clark, born October 6, 1847, and Huldah L., born May, 7, 1854. The family are members of the Lutheran Church, and in his political preferences Mr. Lewis is a Democrat.

WILLIAM SLATES, whose well-cultivated farm is situated on Section 12, Loudon Township, Carroll County, was born in Loudoun County, Va. (near Harper's Ferry), December 29, 1823, a grandson of Frederick Slates, a native of Germany, who, in an early day immigrated to the United States, settling in Virginia, where he passed the remainder of his life. Adam Slates, father of William, was also a native of Loudoun County, Va., and there married Savilla Winner, of Virginia, who bore him five children, viz.: George, deceased; William; Mary Walters, in Perry Township, Carroll County; Mrs. Elizabeth Sawvel, and Solomon, latter deceased.

William Slates when a boy lost his father by death, and until he was sixteen years of age he remained in Virginia. Then coming to Ohio, he here worked as a common laborer, and, returning to Virginia, he found employment for one year with John Snow, who had married the widowed mother of Mr. Slates. In 1847 our subject purchased, in Loudon Township, Carroll Co., Ohio, the farm he now owns, containing 150 acres, and which had been entered by Jacob Gotschall, January 15, 1814, Mr. Slates having in his possession the original warrant, signed by James Madison, President of the United States. Mr. Slates has since bought another piece of land, covering 213 acres, making in all 363 acres. On June 1, 1847, he married Miss Mary Hosterman, who was born November 1, 1827, a daughter of Peter and Catherine (Shell) Hosterman, and by this union

by David Etter

Our final section from Our Other Famous Tiptons, presented to the TFAA Reunion/Conference in October 2022.

ALBERT NEVIN TIPTON (1917-1997)

We begin with Albert Nevin Tipton. Born in Kansas City, Missouri (16 March 1917) and raised in Oklahoma, there is much that could be said about Albert Tipton as a man, a husband, a teacher, and a musician. In this case we will quote the tribute posted by the National Flute Association upon his death as perhaps the best summary of his life's contribution to the musical world. Emphasis in certain places have been added.

One of the twentieth century's finest flutists died on Sunday 5 October 1997 at the age of eighty. Albert Tipton's contribution to music is legendary among flutists, musicians, and music lovers around the world, and he was honored with a Lifetime Achievement Award by the National Flute Association at the Orlando convention in 1995. He was known equally for his accomplished musicianship, sensitivity and skills as a teacher. Countless students who entered the professional ranks, including thirty-five Fullbright scholars, kept in touch with their former teacher as a friend and musical mentor throughout his long and productive life.

He began his musical studies as a violinist, but Tipton's early experiences as a flutist were marked by his family's disapproval of his musical aspirations. Albert's father, [William S. Tipton] a stockbroker, sought to discourage his teenage son's interest in the unsuitable career of music by disassembling his flute. Fortunately for the musical world, the flute was not a passing fancy for Tipton, and the determined young man learned how to reassemble his instrument from the experience. [His first teacher was his mother, Vena C. Etzenhauser Tipton.] He began to seriously study the flute at the age of fourteen when he was accepted as a student of Willam Kincaid at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. The concepts he learned about vibrato as a violinist influenced his use of it on the flute, and his ideas are said to have strongly affected the change that Kincaid made in his own conception of flute vibrato during that time. In addition to his flute studies, Tipton also held a degree in piano performance, and a graduate degree in music theory. Tipton's professional career began while he was still a student at Curtis, when he was chosen to be principal flutist of the National Symphony Orchestra in Washington, D.C. and became the youngest principal flutist in the United States. It was also at Curtis where he met his wife and lifelong pianist Mary Norris. In 1939 he toured throughout South America, the United States and Mexico when he was chosen as solo flute of Leopold Stokowski's All American Youth Orchestra. In 1941, he joined the Philadelphia Orchestra and performed under the major conductors of the day, . . . .

Tipton received outstanding reviews throughout his career, and in the 1940s, Time magazine hailed him as one of the five greatest flutists in the world.

GEORGE ALICESON TIPTON (1932–2016)

George Aliceson Tipton was born on 23 January 1932 in Los Angeles to Harold Forest and Edna V. Chambers Tipton. His childhood was spent in Beverly Hills and Burbank, California. While there is little information about George's younger days in any of the published biographical entries online, research reveals that it is likely that George attended and graduated in the summer of 1949 from Beverly Hills High School where he was a leader in the orchestra and the band by filling the roles of assistant manager of the orchestra and the manager of the band. He was also president of the school's Music Makers club. Apparently, he attended Pasadena City College, for a time at least, playing violin in the college orchestra.

During the middle 1960s Tipton was working as a copyist for the songwriter and publisher Perry Botkin, Jr. It was at this time that he and Harry Nilsson became closely associated. Nilsson told interviewer Dawn Eden that in late 1964 he was trying to get out of his contract with Tower Records because they weren't recording him. "So, finally, we had one session. The reason we got that was George Tipton put up his life's savings, 2,500 bucks, and we recorded four tracks and we sold them to Tower. . . That's what I call belief. He took that money and he paid for the session, which he arranged, his first arrangement." Those tracks were included on Nilsson's debut album, Spotlight on Nilsson. Tipton became Nilsson's regular arranger from then on through the early 1970s. Tipton arranged Nilsson's classic single, "Everybody's Talkin,'" which won a Grammy Award in 1969. In 1970 he arranged and produced a full album, mostly instrumental, of Harry's songs titled Nilsson by Tipton. Commenting on this album, reviewer Steve Leggett (on 18 rodas.blogspot.com) commented,

With his background as a television soundtrack and jingles arranger, but also possessing a deep knowledge of the history of jazz and popular orchestration, George Tipton was the perfect collaborator for Harry Nilsson in the late '60s, . . .

Tipton's last album for Nilsson appears to have been Songwriter (1972). Sometime later George and Harry had a falling out that was never explained.

Tipton collaborated with several other artists as well, notably Jan and Dean, The Sunshine Company, and Jose Feliciano including Feliciano's hit version of "Light My Fire" by the Doors.

George Tipton was well known for his music for television and movies. He composed the theme music and incidental music for The Courtship of Eddie's Father, Soap, Benson, It's a Living, The Golden Girls, Nurses, The Golden Palace, and Empty Nest. Tipton also wrote music for numerous episodes of other TV shows such as Love Boat and Heartland. Tipton wrote the score for Badlands (1973) and for the Brian De Palma film, Phantom of the Paradise (1974), Tipton collaborated with Paul Williams on the theme song for which they were nominated for an Oscar and provided additional scoring for the movie. His work for many TV movies includes The Affair, Griffin and Phoenix, The Gift, and Side by Side: The True Story of the Osmond Family.

George married Paula L. Anton in 1969 and they had one daughter, Joshua. He died on 12 February 2016 in Monterey, California leaving behind a legacy of music and good memories with his family and friends.

Genealogy of George Aliceson Tipton: Father, Harold Forest Tipton (1899-1998); Grandfather, Elihu Night Tipton (1872-1957); Great Grandfather, David Tipton (1847-1915); 2nd Great Grandfather, Alexis Tipton (1821-1884) NOTE: This information may or may not be correct starting with David Tipton.

JENNIFER TIPTON (1937-)

Jennifer Tipton (1937-) is an award winning American lighting designer. She has designed for dance, theater, opera, and installations. She is known for working on many productions of American Ballet Theatre.

Jennifer Tipton was born 11 September 1937 to Samuel Ridley and Isabel Hanson Tipton in Columbus, Ohio, the first of four children. The family moved from Columbus, where Samuel taught at Ohio State University, to Michigan, then Alabama, finally settling in Knoxville, Tennessee in 1947 where Samuel taught zoology and Isabel taught physics for the University of Tennessee.

While attending Central High School in Fountain City, TN, she was involved with the student newspaper, the science club, and the debate team. She served as president of the dramatics organization and was voted the most studious female senior for her graduation year (1954).

With the award of a full-tuition Cornell National Scholarship, Tipton entered Cornell University with the goal of becoming an astrophysicist but, after a year, decided to become a dancer. Dance had interested her since her early teen years, so much so that she spent two weeks in New York during her senior year of high school to study with Martha Graham, the renowned American dancer and choreographer. During her freshman year at Cornell, she was elected president of the Modern Dance Club. Upon graduation in 1958, she embarked on what was to be a fairly brief career as a dancer because lighting became her passion.

With the early 1960s Tipton began studying with Tom Skelton, then became his assistant. (Skelton, with three Tony Award nominations, taught lighting design for Yale University and published his method, "The Handbook for Dance Stagecraft," in Dance Magazine.) She eventually became the full-time lighting designer for the Paul Taylor dance company.

By the mid-1960s Tipton was designing lighting for dance and theater both. During her long career, she has designed lighting for hundreds of dance productions, including shows for The Joffrey Ballet, Twyla Tharp, American Ballet Theatre, Mikhail Baryshnikov, Jerome Robbins, the Dance Theatre of Harlem, and The San Francisco Ballet.

Tipton's Broadway debut was a 1969 revival of Our Town. Other Broadway credits include For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide When the Rainbow is Enuf, The Cherry Orchard, The Pirates of Penzance, Singin' in the Rain, Jerome Robbins' Broadway, and James Joyce's The Dead. She has worked with the New York Shakespeare Festival, American Repertory Theatre

(Mass.), and the Yale Repertory Theatre. Among Tipton's opera credits are Agrippina (Handel), Il Trovatore (Verdi), and The Magic Flute (Mozart). She has lighted shows at the Lyric Opera of Chicago, the Santa Fe Opera, the Royal Opera House in London, and the Glyndebourne Festival Opera.

In the 1990s Tipton began to include lighting for fine art and multimedia work. She designed "Light Above the Hudson" by sculptor Robert Gober, a light installation for the Experimental Media Performing Arts Center building in Troy, New York. In 2010, pianist Eteri Andjaparidze performed "Spectral Scriabin," featuring the music of Alexander Scriabin for which Tipton designed multicolored lighting.

Tipton has won many awards. Among them are the Drama Desk Award for For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide When the Rainbow is Enuf (1977), The Cherry Orchard (1977), Jerome Robbins' Broadway (1989), and Long Day's Journey into Night (1989); and the Tony Award for The Cherry Orchard (1977) and Jerome Robbins' Broadway (1989). She has been nominated for each of these awards numerous times for other shows.

In 2001 Tipton was awarded The Dorothy and Lillian Gish Prize, one of the richest prizes in the arts, given annually to "a man or woman who has made an outstanding contribution to the beauty of the world and to mankind's enjoyment and understanding of life." In 2003 she received the Jerome Robbins Award and in 2004 the Mayor's Award for Arts and Culture in New York City. In 2008 she became a MacArthur Fellow and the United States Artists Gracie Fellow.

Jessica Williams of Pod de Deux writes (2017): “Jennifer Tipton is an internationally recognized lighting designer . . . . Tipton has been an important presence throughout her prolific career in dance, drama, and opera productions of all scales, and she is regarded as one of the most versatile designers working today. Best known for her work in dance, Tipton’s painterly lighting evokes mood and defines and sculpts movement. Preferring a small but powerful palette of colors, she pioneered the use of white light in theatre and dance. . . .”

Tipton continues to serve as an adjunct professor of Design at the Yale School of Drama which she has done since 1981. She has trained many of the current leading lighting designers. And she continues to be in demand as a lighting designer. She has designed for To Kill a Mockingbird (play, 2018), A Gathering of Ghosts (ballet, 2019), Intimate Apparel (opera, 2022) and for Pictures from Home (play, 2023).

DANIEL GORDON TIPTON (1844-1898)

Daniel Gordon Tipton was born in 1844 in New York as he indicated when he registered to vote when living in Panamint, Inyo County, California in 1875, listing his occupation as being a miner. In December 1881 he registered to vote in Tombstone, Cochise County, Arizona, listing his full name as Daniel Gordon Tipton and his occupation, once again, as that of a miner.

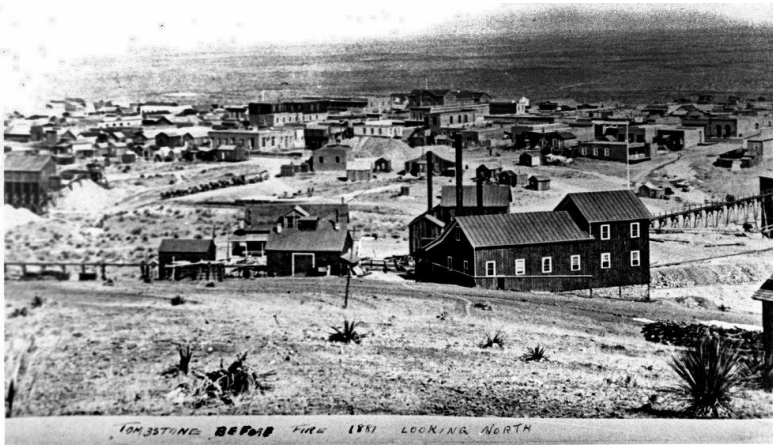

Due to the research of Australian Peter Brand, an authority on certain aspects of the Old West, we know that Tipton served on the USS Malvern, a former Confederate blockade runner captured and refitted for the Union, during the last months of the American Civil War. “The 1890 Veteran's Census for El Paso states that he enlisted July 15, 1864, and was discharged April 15, 1865.” Afterward he headed west. Brand writes:

“ . . . Daniel ‘Tip’ Tipton was 37 years old when he arrived in Tombstone in March 1881. He had a hard reputation earned during the early days of the mining boom in Nevada, where he was said to have ridden with a group of Civil War veterans. Tipton, who sported several tattoos on his hand and forearms, was a former Union seaman who had turned his hand to mining and gambling after the war. He had spent time in the Gunnison district of Colorado in 1879 . . . . Tipton was said to have traveled to Tombstone in company with another Earp ally, Bat Masterson, and may, therefore, have gained immediate entry to the Earp inner sanctum . . . . Tipton was a high stakes gambler and expert faro dealer and siding with the Earp brothers in Tombstone was probably another calculated risk that he was willing to take. . . .”

After Virgil Earp was shot late in the evening of 28 December 1881, his brother, Wyatt Earp, assuming the wounds were fatal, requested and received federal authority to hunt for the men who did this. So, Wyatt assembled a posse of hard men to join him in this search. Among them was Dan “Tip” Tipton. Brand believes that Tipton became one of Earp’s bodyguards as a result.

It was suspected that the Clanton brothers and their supporters, known locally as the Cowboys, were the culprits. They had held a grudge against the Earps since the gunfight at the OK corral and wanted revenge. On 23 January 1882 the Earp posse left Tombstone in search of the Cowboys. But the Clantons surrendered to the authorities and were back in Tombstone before the end of the month. The conflict shifted to the courtroom. Eventually the charges which had been filed against Ike Clanton, whose hat had been found at the scene of the shooting, were dismissed.

“With tensions close to breaking point, on February 15, Earp deputy, Dan Tipton, and the ever-ready Ben Maynard [one of the Cowboys] came close to a gunfight in the Alhambra saloon. Weapons were drawn and Tipton was left with a bloody eye after the confrontation. Both men were arrested and fined for disturbing the peace.” In March, the Earp posse had been warned of another possible attack by the Cowboys. “Dan Tipton would later state they had been repeatedly warned to be on the lookout for a Cowboy ambush, and on March 18, 1882, it finally came.” Late that night while Wyatt’s brother, Morgan, was playing billiards he was shot in the back with Wyatt and Tipton watching. He died within an hour. It was determined that Frank Stilwell was the killer. The next day five members of the posse rode the train to Tucson having heard some of the Cowboys were there. While there they found Frank Stilwell and killed him, then hopped a train to Benson and made their way back to Tombstone.

Tipton had not been with the posse members who went to Tucson. He did ride with the Vendetta Posse on March 22 when they encountered one of the Cowboys, Florentino Cruz, a.k.a. Indian Charlie. On March 23 Charlie Smith and Tipton were sent back to Tombstone but were arrested by Cochise County Sheriff Behan on bogus charges. They were released on March 25. Several incidents between the Vendetta Posse and the Cowboys took place during and after Tipton's time in jail. The posse arrived at Henry Clay Hooker's Sierra Bonita ranch by March 27. "Early that same morning, Dan Tipton left Tombstone on the first stage heading for Benson, carrying $1000 for the posse. At Benson, Tipton boarded a train to Willcox, where he then rented a horse and rode to Hooker's Sierra Bonita."

In April the posse, having completed what they set out to do, rode to New Mexico, then traveled to Colorado where the posse went their separate ways. Dan Tipton stayed in the Gunnison area along with Wyatt and Warren Earp for some time. The state of Arizona requested the state of Colorado to extradite the men of the Vendetta Posse to face charges, but the governor refused these requests.

By 1895 Tipton was working for U. S. Customs in El Paso, Texas. But he had not given up his old ways. "[Peter] Brand found Tipton had been arrested in June of 1897, charged with smuggling and with conspiracy to issue certificates to Chinese laborers in violation of the Chinese Exclusion Acts. Arrested as he crossed back into the U. S. at the El Paso border, he was held in prison due to an inability to post bail. In October 1897, Tipton was found guilty and sentenced to one year and eight months in the Ohio Penitentiary, which he entered at the end of that month. None too hale looking in the prison mug shots, described at the time of his admission as having 'intemperate' habits, Tipton died of Bright's Disease [a type of kidney disease] four months later, on February 28, 1898. He had listed no family upon his entrance to the prison and was buried in the unmarked grave [at the Green Lawn Cemetery in Columbus, Ohio]." Due to the work and efforts of a team of researchers, Daniel Gordon Tipton's grave was located, and a marker was supplied by the Veteran's Administration in 2005.

“A formal dedication was held on July 1, 2006. The headstone is plain, with just Tipton’s name, his birth and death dates, and his military service. Nothing on it even suggests that the man buried there participated in one of the most controversial acts in Old West history.”

This concludes the entries planned to be shared in our newsletter that are based on research for the presentation given to the 2022 TFAA Reunion/Conference. Many more Tiptons could be written about who were famous in one way or another and we will do so from time to time. Your editor welcomes contributions to this series from any of our TFAA members to be included in future editions of the newsletter.

Here's a photo of my Grandfather William Tipton's parents (James M. Tipton & Lenora) and siblings. I do not know the year this was taken but his sister (I only knew her as Margie) gave this picture to my mother, Winnie Jo Tipton, about 20 years ago. I have a picture of Aunt Margie with my mother and brother, Joseph Nathan Allee when she came to visit us. I'll share more pics as I find them for my Tipton relatives if you're interested.--
